

Painter for Building and Corrosion Protection

We are a medium-sized company located in central Bavaria, specializing in corrosion protection, coatings, industrial paints and painting work for numerous well-known customers such as Audi, Deutsche Bahn and Strabag. As a family business in its third generation, we combine state-of-the-art technical equipment with decades of experience and our great passion for the best results. There is a lot to do and we are proud of our continuous growth. We are looking for a painter for building and corrosion protection for our mainly regional construction sites.

Depending on your level of experience, your responsibilities will include:

- Carrying out general corrosion protection work
- Carrying out general painting work
- Sandblasting and high-pressure water jetting
- Coating work with airless spraying technology

During the orientation phase, you will become familiar with our processes and internal organization. and we will figure out together which additional areas of responsibility you would like to take on based on your individual strengths.

We offer you:

- an attractive salary
- a company pension scheme
- state-of-the-art protective clothing
- a varied and interesting range of tasks
- a good working environment in a friendly team
- a secure, forward-looking workplace
- relocation support and free accommodation if required

Have we piqued your interest? Then we should get to know each other. Send us your application to info@berrgmbh.de, call us at +49 9453 99420 or use our application form.

We look forward to meeting you.
